Business Structuring & Effective Asset Protection Advice

Tailored specifically for small-to-medium businesses, this informative seminar explains why it is vital to properly consider business structuring and succession planning to reduce your risks and protect your assets.

Before entering into any business venture it is important to be fully aware of the various business structures that could be adopted, how each impacts on the protection of your personal assets and the role of succession planning tools in this process.

At this seminar, we will clearly explain:

- The importance of receiving business structuring advice;
- How business structures impact on protecting personal assets;
- Why business succession is an issue which should be considered before you enter into business;
- Accounting and compliance processes and the importance of their early establishment;
- The importance of record keeping in management decisions; and
- The most efficient accounting software and online set ups for business.
