Bridging the Gap: New Director Enhances Workers Compensation Practice

DW Fox Tucker Lawyers is pleased to announce the appointment of Debra Khor as a Director and new member of the Workers Compensation and Self Insurance Team.

Debra's appointment is another key plank that builds on the firm's commitment to continue delivering leading-edge services that meet the needs of its clients and keep it ahead of the ever-evolving business environment.

Debra is a highly experienced personal injury lawyer with a background in physiotherapy. She is uniquely positioned as an expert who possesses a deep understanding of both the legal and medical aspects of personal injury law.

Workers Compensation and Self Insurance Director John Walsh said he was delighted to have Debra join his team.

"Watching from afar, I have always been impressed by Debra's straightforward and pragmatic approach to legal matters, which aligns with my own philosophies regarding excellent client service. She complements our values and beliefs, and I'm excited to have her working alongside me as we seek to enhance our offering to clients.

Debra comes to us with wide-ranging expertise in resolving serious and catastrophic injuries and other complex compensation matters for individuals. Her unique insights will assist our team in developing new solutions that 'bridge the gap' between employers and workers and, therefore, help to reduce claim costs and avoid costly litigation.

Debra is highly regarded in the legal profession. She actively supports her clients and the wider business community by serving on various committees responsible for providing input to industry-specific policy and legislative changes."
