DW Fox Tucker Lawyers Gains an Engineering Edge with the Arrival of Rising Star

We are thrilled to announce the newest member of our legal team, Ben Noack, who adds a new dimension to our service offering after two decades in engineering, including nearly a decade as a highly successful consulting structural engineer. With his exciting shift towards the legal realm, DW Fox Tucker Lawyers welcomes someone who has built a strong network, collaborating with various government agencies and working across a diverse range of industries. With a unique skillset and knowledge base not typically seen in the legal profession, Ben will become an invaluable advisor for the firm's property, construction, mining, energy, public administration, not-for-profit, and advanced manufacturing clients.

Ben conveyed his excitement as he embarked on the next stage of his career, "Joining DW Fox Tucker is an important step in my professional journey. The firm's commitment to providing top-tier legal services, willingness to look outside the box to deliver innovative solutions and vibrant workplace culture align perfectly with my values. I look forward to contributing to our clients success and growing together with this outstanding team".

Raising the bar in service delivery

DW Fox Tucker's Managing Director, Joe De Ruvo, was delighted when Ben chose the firm as the place where he wanted to advance his career, saying, "We're excited to welcome Ben, whose multifaceted capability will undoubtedly enhance several important areas across our commercial and dispute resolution teams. Ben's decision to join DW Fox Tucker is a terrific endorsement of the program we initiated in late 2022 when we decided to review our service delivery to ensure we continued to meet the needs of our clients who are facing increasingly difficult conditions and need legal partners that can offer solutions that can be adapted to the ever-changing market and delivered via more efficient means".

The firm's CEO, Narelle Lee, said Ben's recruitment reinforces our commitment to providing our clients with diverse skills and a holistic approach to their legal needs.

“Ben brings a special combination of engineering and legal expertise that’s rarely seen in the legal profession. His boots-on-the-ground experience will add a fresh perspective to how we deliver solutions to our clients.”

Please join us in welcoming Ben Noack to our team, where he will undoubtedly enhance our capacity to serve our clients with the utmost dedication and proficiency. We look forward to the many contributions he will make to our firm, our clients, and our overarching mission to continuously improve and excel.
